SANTA ANITA.

"No wonder good racehorses are bred on this place," is the usual comment of every visitor to Mr. E. J. Baldwin's Santa Anita ranch, near Los Angeles, Cal. The ranch consists of about 38,000 acres, right in the heart of the far-famed San Gabriel Valley.

Mr. Baldwin's ground is fenced in on one side by several big foot hills, on one of which there is a lake that irrigates the ranch. That portion of Santa Anita under cultivation is a perfect paradise. The orange groves, covering hundreds of acres, were in full bloom when I was there three weeks ago, and the magnificent palm-shaded boulevards, through which we drove, must be seen to be appreciated. Mr. Baldwin's residence is surrounded by the most beautiful gardens in Southern California. They have nothing but sunshine and roses from one end of the year to the other in this part of the country. The lake, or moat, that surrounds the Baldwin residence at Santa Anita represents an outlay of $60,000. Mr. Baldwin told me that it took 100 Chinamen 365 days to dig this trench. Some of the palm trees in the gardens tower as high as telegraph poles, bursting forth at the top into the most beautiful green plumage imaginable. Every plant that will flourish in the climate, which includes about everything known to botany, is to be found in the Baldwin gardens. Hundreds of the most beautiful pea fowl make their home on an island in the lake. Another sight worth seeing is the deer park, containing quite a large herd. The home of "Lucky" Baldwin is surrounded by a wall of hedge moss, the threads of which are as fine as silk. The hedge presents a solid front and is about four feet high.

Think of racehorses being raised amidst orange, prune and lemon orchards and vineyards, and then you have an idea of the atmosphere in which thoroughbreds are raised at Santa Anita. The home of Grinstead, where the stallions hold forth, is surrounded by hundreds of 20-year-old orange trees, which were covered with golden fruit that glistened in the sunlight the morning Mr. Baldwin escorted me over the ranch.

"The home of Grinstead" is painted prominently over the entrance to the stud barn. Some reference of mine to the dead stallion brought back pleasant memories to the Master of Santa Anita and he launched forth at once into an elaborate history of the horse's great achievements in the stud.

"He was the greatest thoroughbred that ever stood in California," declared Mr. Baldwin, "his sons have demonstrated their ability to get winners and his daughters are producing mares of the first class. I believe that Santiago will duplicate Grinstead's success in the stud. Santiago was a good racehorse. He raced until he was nine years of age and then retired from the turf as sound as a bell. The first of his get will be campaigned this year."

The stallions at Santa Anita include Rey el Santa Anita, Emperor of Norfolk, Santiago, Amigo, Honduras and Chesterfield. Rey el Santa Anita was campaigned in England by Richard Croker. Mr. Baldwin having leased the running qualities of the horse to the Tammany Chieftain. It is Mr. Baldwin's intention to give this horse every opportunity to perpetuate his greatness, some of the best producing mares at the ranch being reserved for him this year.

Beyond taking on some flesh, Emperor of Norfolk hasn't changed since he retired from the turf. Many Californians consider the Emperor the greatest racehorse that ever carried the red and black Maltese cross to victory. Mr. Baldwin himself is authority for the statement that the Emperor worked a mile over the Washington Park track in 1:38.

Amigo is the sire of La Goleta, the best race-mare on the coast this year, barring Briar Sweet. Honduras is a full brother to the famous mare, Wheel of Fortune, by Gano. Wheel of Fortune is one of the few great horses Baldwin ever let get away from him. She races in the colors of Joe Harvey of San Francisco, for whom she won the $10,000 Burns Handicap a few years ago.

Chesterfield is an Australian-bred horse, twenty-three years old. Mr. Baldwin thinks pretty well of the old horse, on account of his having sired the good colt, Los Medanos. This year Chesterfield is to be given some of the best mares at Santa Anita.

An admirable quality in all the horses at the Santa Anita is their pleasant dispositions. Even the studs are as gentle as lambs, and visitors to the ranch fondle and caress them as though they were house pets. Mr. Baldwin is very particular about the manner in which his horses are handled. In the estimation of Mr. Baldwin, no provocation is sufficient to justify the abuse of a dumb animal by any of his men. The strict enforcement of this rule is responsible for the perfect behavior of the horses at the ranch. The grooms treat the animals kindly, and the horses seem to appreciate the fact by reciprocating in a like manner. Mr. Baldwin has been waging a vigorous war on brutal grooms ever since he went on the turf, and the good he has accomplished in this respect entitles him to honorary membership in every society for the prevention of cruelty to dumb animals.

The day I was at the ranch, Mr. Baldwin took me through one of the yearling paddocks. In the party was a little five-year-old child, the daughter of a foreman on the ranch. She toddled into the paddock after us, and every stranger in the party thought it rather dangerous to let her do so, expecting that some kittenish yearling would trample on the little lady. The Baldwin yearlings, however, are as well behaved as the older horses on the ranch.

Some of the best producing mares in California are to be found at Santa Anita. In the bunch of yearlings already referred to may be found brothers and sisters to great racehorses. Among the colts that caught my fancy was a frisky bay by Emperor of Norfolk—Miss Ford, one of the best mares Mr. Baldwin owned. She ran second to C. H. Todd in the American Derby of 1887. Another bay colt by San Venado, out of the dam of Magdalenes, is one of the fastest gallopers in the herd. San Venado, the sire of this colt, is a young horse in training at Frisco this winter. A brown filly by San Venado, out of Volante's dam, is one of Mr. Baldwin's favorites. A full sister to the celebrated Rey del Careres ought to have speed to burn, if she takes after her distinguished brother, who will be remembered as one of the speediest two-year-olds of his year.

Rey del Careres and Rey el Santa Anita were taken to England the same year by Richard Croker. Rey del Careres raced on the other side of the big pond under the name of Americus. La Goleta is considered one of the best racing tools bred at Santa Anita in recent years. A bay filly out of her dam by Emperor of Norfolk is among the yearling crop of '99. Among the other relatives to distinguished horses in the '99 crop of yearlings may be mentioned a bay filly by Honduras, out of Celoso's dam; a chestnut filly by Gano, out of Formero's dam; and a bay filly by Emperor of Norfolk, out of Los Medanos' dam.

Los Angeles, the greatest mare that ever wore the Baldwin colors, is still in harness on the ranch. She is heavy in foal to Rey el Santa Anita and the produce of this combination is expected to make a name for itself in turf history. Mr. Baldwin says she was best. On the other hand John Mackey says Firenzi was the queen of all American race-mares. Yo Tambien has her admirers also. In fact the question of which really was the best race-mare in the history of the American turf is one that admits of too much argument to be discussed here.

"That old mare cost me $3,500," said Mr. Baldwin, pointing to Los Angeles, "but she was well worth the money, having won in the neighborhood of $100,000 in the days when stakes and purses were small in value compared to what they were a few years after the old mare was retired. Things were coming my way on the turf when that old mare was at her best. Emperor of Norfolk and Los Angeles were 3-year-olds the same year, back in 1888. Volante won the American Derby for me in 1885; Silver Cloud, another one of my horses, annexed it in 1886, but Miss Ford, my representative, was beaten by C. H. Todd in 1887. In 1888 I came east, determined to win the big Derby for the third time. The Emperor was at his best, and Los Angeles was a pretty sweet proposition herself. Ten Penny beat her in the Oaks at Louisville, but she redeemed herself grandly in the Latonia Derby, winning the run-off, after making a dead heat with White. Ed Corrigan's Modesty and Los Angeles have the honor of being the only two mares that ever won a Derby in this country. Modesty, you know, won the first American Derby, run in 1884."—R. J. Collins in St. Louis Republic.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The following horses of J. B. Lewman, in charge of trainer P. West, are at the Memphis track:

Amateur, br. c. 4, by Laureate—Rehearsal. Glad Hand, b. f. 3, by Deceiver—Enquiry. St. Catherine, ch. f. 3, by Onondaga—Bonnie Harold.

Dieu Donne, b. c. 2, by Magnetizer—Mon Droit. Flaunt, b. c. 2, by Forester—Display. Harry Lucesco, blk. c. 2, by King Eric—Springtime.

Catanach, ch. g. 2, by Jim Gore—Nourmahal. Prince of Branim, b. g. 2, by Longside—Dicey. Mollie Newman, ch. f. 2, by Pursebearer—Flutter.

Kisberdale, blk. f. 2, by Jim Gore—Savannah. Kentucky Babe, ch. f. 2, by Spendthrift—Apple Blossom.

It is said that "Father Bill" Daly's contract with O'Connor's elders for the boy's services called for a salary of $25 for the first year, $50 for the second, $75 for the third, $100 for the fourth and $150 for the fifth. Also $25 for each winning mount and $10 for each time he rode second or third, outside mounts to be his own.

Sam Lucas, who has developed into the most promising sire owned at Marcus Daly's Bitter Root stock farm, is only eight years old. He was bred by the late August Belmont and is a bay horse by The Ill Used, son of Breadalbane and Ellermire. The dam of Sam Lucas is Mehallah by Kingfisher, a son of Lexington.

Corrigan-bred two-year-olds have won about half of the races for horses of their ages so far run over the San Francisco tracks. Loch Katrine, Innovator, Jennie Riley, and Golden Rule have all performed creditably, and the last-named may be a crack as he broke the track record at his first start Monday.

The Jockey Club has as yet taken no action in the way of selecting track officials for the present year, from which it is inferred the staff will remain as it was last season, with the possible addition of a board of salaried stewards, of which C. H. Pettingill and J. J. Burke are favorably spoken of as probable members.

OPPENHEIMER'S SENTENCE.

The full text of the decision rendered by the stewards in the case of the esteemed F. Oppenheimer was as follows:

"NEW ORLEANS, February 5.
"Official ruling.

"On February 2 we suspended the stable owned in part, managed and trained by Mr. F. Oppenheimer, pending investigation of the running of the horse Klepper in the fourth race of that day. A pronounced and legitimate favorite in the race, off well at the start and in the front division, he ran in consistent style for about three furlongs, and then had to be ridden hard to keep up with his field, and, in spite of the vigorous and commendable efforts of Jockey D. Maher, he finished absolutely last.

"He has shown himself to be a good horse on a heavy or good track, having won January 11 and January 13 on tracks as above, respectively. Investigation shows this stable has had various trainers since its arrival here, and, while the trainer in charge of the horses at the time he ran an equally bad race on December 22 was dismissed, the care of the horse and the practical training were continued by the same contingent, we are satisfied the horse was not in good condition, as evidenced by his race, and the explanations were equally unsatisfactory.

"The matter has had our careful consideration, and, notwithstanding the illness of Mr. F. Oppenheimer, the trainer, we find the training and care to his satisfaction apparently. In connection with the same, it may be stated the horse Mizpah, under the same management practically, has an equally acrobatic performance or two to his credit as well. For the best interests of racing, and for the better protection of our patrons, we recommend that the further entries of the horses Klepper, Mizpah and Fetiche be refused at this meeting. We further recommend to the License Committee of the American Turf Congress that the application of Mr. F. Oppenheimer for trainer's license be refused. Respectfully yours,

"JAMES H. REES,
"H. M. JOHNSON,
"Stewards."

As a sequel to this case it is said that Mizpah has already been sold to W. Roach and Oppenheimer is seeking buyers for Klepper and Fetiche. Furthermore he has regretfully withdrawn his application for a trainer's license.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The charge against Sidney Bender of endeavoring to influence another to either boost or claim Prince Harry in a recent selling race at New Orleans was dismissed, as the evidence was not considered sufficient to warrant other action. Bender, however, was given a word of warning in the matter.

The place price on Strongoli, third race at Ingleside, in Tuesday's DAILY RACING FORM, was an error in telegraphy. It should have been evens instead of 2 to 1. The wires were bad and the chart came by Wheatstone, so that checking was not possible.

Out in Frisco they have it that Fred Tatal and Sam Doggett have both determined to retire from the saddle and that Tatal has gone into partnership with Dal Hawkins as an owner of race horses with two to start in with.

At Frisco there is talk of a match between Abuse and Miss Rowena at five furlongs, the Foster crack to give the filly five pounds in addition to weight for age and sex allowance.

Jockey O'Leary has left New Orleans for New York to re-join the Hitchcock stable. He was anything but a dazzling success as a pigskin artist at New Orleans.

Winner—Br. h. by Longfellow—Jennie Treacy.
Start fair. Won easily. Adolph Spreckels was best. Within reaching distance always he played with his company at the end. The longer the route the better it suits him. He is nearly at his best. El Salado ran a surprising race. He has greatly improved. He had speed and hung on gamely. Cavallo ran his race. Away slowly, he made up a lot of ground with luck against him. Una Colorado is a sprinter and not a good one. He closed fairly well. Naranja had speed but is a coward. Fly showed his usual flash and his usual unreliability. Don Fulano was not ready. Bliss Rucker, off poorly, had an easy race. Ballister showed some speed and stopped.

Winner—B. c. by Montana—Flirt, by Faustus.
Start fair. Won easily. Montanus got off well, was always in a good position and won like a good colt. He was much the best. Plan ran a good race after a long let-up and was not as fit as he can be made. He is a stayer and good in any going. Silver State is in good form, ran well and was lucky. Ko Ko showed a great burst of speed in the last three furlongs, closing up a lot of ground. Dolore is good and liable to score soon. Gauntlet was off badly and ran disappoint-ingly. He will do better. Judge Stouffer's race was a bad one. Roadrunner will not do in such company.

Winner—B. m. by Fonso—Amelia P.
Start poor. Won driving. Amelia Fonso was perhaps the best. But with bad luck she would have been beaten. She had a clear course and was busy at the end. Prompto ran a good race. He is nearly ripe. Was short today. Watch him. Sir Urian was unlucky. Away slowly he was blocked through the backstretch and came strong when he got through. Castake's game is mud. He got a bad ride. So did Rio Chico. Throw out Bonibel's race. It was bad. Octuruck should be tabbed for jumping. He is good.

Overweights—Sir Urian, 4 pounds; Initiator, 2; Uncle True, 3.

Winner—Ch. g. by Judge Murray—Spinner.
Start good. Won with all ease. The Bachelor is in good form and outlasted his opposition.
He won looking around. Meadow Lark prefers a shorter route. That considered, his race was a good one. Joe Mussel ran a fair race, closing strongly. Rose Maid can do better. So can Fashion Plate, but she was short and needed the race. Arundel and Michael G. were probably both in for exercise with reference to a future jumping race.

Scratched—San Marco, 109.
